

Southeast Los Angeles County
Workforce Development Board
(SELACO WDB)
ETP Consortium Project

SELACO Workforce Development Board is a non-profit organization providing business development through employee training. SELACO presents opportunities for customized training, designated specifically for California commerce, at no cost. Through California Employment Training Panel (ETP) funds, SELACO offers the ability for eligible businesses to off-set their employee training costs. The goals of ETP and SELACO are to retain California businesses and help employers meet the challenges of out of state competition through a more skilled workforce. Companies who work with SELACO have their training reimbursed when their qualified trainees successfully complete the customized training courses, remain employed for a minimum of 90 days after training, and earn a wage of $16.50 per hour, inclusive of health benefits. Your payroll taxes have paid for it. Why not use it to your benefit? Call today.
